SUSTAINABILITY NEWSLETTER

March 2019

Did you know that UT Dallas is identified as a Bee Campus USA university? Bee Campus USA is an organization committed to helping and motivating universities to sustain pollinators by providing them a healthy habitat that is rich with a variety of native plants. For more information, please click here.

The Sustainability Ambassadors Training is on April 18. The training will focus on the Green Office Certification Program, how to educate others on sustainability in the workplace, and raising awareness. There will be light refreshments and an opportunity to ask questions. You must register to participate. To register, please click here.

Sustainability Updates

The UTD Tech Store will be hosting the annual E-Waste Recycling Event this year. Last year, the event was for one week. This year, the event will be from April 10 to Friday, April 26th. When you trade-in your used electronics, you will receive in-store credit and potential discounts. For more information, please click here.

Did you know that Facilities Management offers recycling services at UT Dallas. You can contact recycling@utdallas.edu to request recycling pickups, recycling bin deliveries, and to acquire more information about recycling on-campus.
