

Office of Sustainability

November 2019

Welcome to the Office of Sustainability newsletter!
Here you will find updates within campus sustainability programs, events, initiatives, and Eco-Reps.

Think Global, Serve Local

Want to be recognized for your service in sustainability? The Sustainability Service Honor is awarded to student leaders who provide volunteer service that tackles global sustainability at UT Dallas and in our community.

Discover some service ideas and how to qualify before you graduate here.

How Green Are We?

The Green Office Certification Program is a fun tool to help assess how "Green" we are on a department, office, and individual level. Want to make an effort in your office? Learn how your office can adopt sustainable practices and win cool prizes on our Office of Sustainability website!

LEEDing the Way

The new Engineering and Computer Science West (ECSW) building opened over the summer and was dedicated in September. It has earned LEED Gold status! This marks the seventh LEED certified building on campus.

Read more here.

Green and Yellow

Campus recycle bins are now green with yellow lids and feature a 'recycle' decal on the front. Landfill bins have been painted beige. Think you know proper recycling practices?

Check your knowledge.

Important Dates

Texas Arbor Day

November 1

University Village Composting Training

November 4

4 p.m. - 4:30 p.m.

SOM 2.802

Info

Sustainability Committee Meeting

November 6

2 p.m.- 3 p.m.

SLC 3.102

Info

Pop-Up Farmer's Market

November 12

Dining Hall West

Garden Workday

November 16

Info

Office of Sustainability
The University of Texas at Dallas
800 W. Campbell Road, Richardson, Texas 75080

utdallas.edu/sustainability

View this email in your browser.
